Independent Finance and Accounting Consulting Firms Launch National Alliance
New industry association will enhance reach and services of regional members

April 16, 2014 (Waltham, MA) – Eleven independent finance and accounting consulting firms from across the country have aligned to launch a membership-based group called the Finance and Accounting Consultants Alliance (FINACA). Sharing best practices and insights enables the members to provide exceptional client service as well as deliver expert finance and accounting resources across the United States.

Jim Bourdon, CEO and Founder of Accounting Management Solutions (AMS) in Waltham, MA, spearheaded the efforts to establish FINACA. “This collaboration will provide incredible opportunities to share operational ideas, technical knowledge and resources so that we can each better serve our clients,” said Jim.

FINACA consists of 11 member firms with more than 700 professionals throughout the country who specialize in accounting, finance and internal audit services. In addition to AMS in the Greater Boston area, other founding members of the alliance (along with each metropolitan area served) include:

- AC Lordi (Greater Philadelphia)
- Advisory Financial Group (South Florida)
- Bridgepoint Consulting (Texas)
- CFO Consulting Partners (New York, NY)
- Kaiser Consulting (Columbus, OH)
- LauberCFOs, Inc. (Metro Milwaukee)
- RoseRyan (San Francisco Bay Area)
- Scale Finance LLC (Raleigh-Durham)
- TGG Accounting (San Diego)
- Veris Consulting (Virginia/D.C.)

About FINACA

The Finance and Accounting Consultants Alliance (FINACA) is a nationwide network of consulting firms specializing in the areas of accounting, finance and internal audit services. Our members are independent firms committed to a common mission: to provide exceptional client service as well as access to expert finance and accounting resources across the United States by collaborating on engagements, sharing ideas, and developing best practices.
