

Kelly Weigle

Consultant

ABOUT KELLY

With over 20 years of accounting experience, Kelly is a highly disciplined and conscientious professional who is knowledgeable in general accounting and compliance. Her expertise in accounting operations stems from various roles held throughout her career, including plant accountant, assistant controller, and controller. Coupled with her working knowledge of Sarbanes-Oxley compliance, clients appreciate Kelly's ability to offer practical and efficient business solutions, while incorporating effective internal controls.

Kelly's proficiencies in accounting include month-end close responsibilities, financial statement preparation, account reconciliations, and financial analysis. She also has an in-depth understanding of purchasing, accounts payable, and fixed assets, and is adept at documenting business processes and workflows and making recommendations for process improvements.

With her knowledge of Sarbanes-Oxley compliance, Kelly is skilled in performing internal controls assessments, testing internal controls, identifying deficiencies, and working with control owners to develop remediation strategies for ineffective controls. At Kaiser Consulting, Kelly has supported audit projects across various industries and has also participated in grant compliance audits.

Kelly enjoys collaborating with others to meet project goals and training and developing client staff to transfer knowledge at the end of a project. Her blended experience and expansive accounting knowledge make Kelly an asset to any project.
